A. Gesztes and M. Mezei, Anesth Analg, Vol. 67:1079-1081 (1988) describes preparation of liposomes containing topical anesthetic agents and the investigation of their local anesthetic effect. The substance of this publication was previously disclosed by Gesztes and Mezei at the International Congress of Pharmaceutical Sciences F.I.P., Amsterdam, Netherlands, in September 1987. A copy of a preprint of this publication is enclosed. The F.I.P Abstract also is enclosed.

The following publications generally relate to investigations of the possible mechanism of action or effect of local anesthetics using the lipid bilayers of liposomes as a model membrane.
